NOTABLE CONFLAGRATIONS.—The Augusta Chronicle and Constitutionalist says:

Our readers may remember it was publicly and confidently predicted that, in the event of the inauguration of Mr. Tilden, there would be extensive fires in the Departments at Washington. Whether reported truly or falsely, many thousands of people were convinced that the Radical leaders never would allow a Democrat to become President, if they could help it, or, failing in that, they never would permit a man like Mr.
Tilden to get at the records of their party for investigation and exposure.
To prevent anything of that kind, it was boldly charged that the public buildings of Washington, containing damning documents, would be consumed by fire. What gave color to these allegations, was the destruction by fire of the files and correspondence of the General Land Office.
As the fire chanced at a time when Boas Shepherd had fully away, suspicion was aroused that there was "something rotten in the State of Denmark"—that is in the Radical regime. The burning of the Patent Office has created fresh alarm in these premises, perhaps because Mr.
Hayes has unexpectedly turned out to be quite as much a reformer and rogue-repeller as Mr. Tilden. The New York Sun recalls, that "when the Democratic House was known to be a fixed fact, Secor Robeson's and Belknap's departments took fire; and, for prompt exposure by the press of the motives for such fires, the records of those departments would, doubtless, have disappeared in smoke and flames." The same paper adds: "The Land Office records were full of evidence of frauds committed under Delano and others; and when committees of the next House inquire into such frauds, they will be confronted at the start with the lack of proper records. The Indian Bureau and the Pension Office, in both of which fraud is known to have existed, are in the same building; and it is not unlikely that their records will be found to have partly or wholly vanished in connection with this fire." These are grave charges or suspicions, but they possess elements of fact that must seriously alarm the public. A big fire among the Treasury records would almost compel the skeptical to believe that there is some method in this incendiarism, and that the men who have "organized hell" since 1860-61, up to the inauguration of Mr. Hayes, are determined, if possible, to smother present inquiry and to make impossible, so far as they can, future punishment in this world.

The New York Evening Express hits the nail on the head thus: "According to Pasha Conkling and his followers, Hayes has committed three unpardonable sins. 1. He got the Cincinnati nomination, which the Pasha wanted. 2. He put Evans and Schurz, the Pasha's most intimate enemies, into the Cabinet. 3.
His civil service order, if carried out, would knock the Republican machine to pieces. And the Pasha is the machine."

FITZ. SAIN.—During the trial of a case relating to Confederate money received during the war, an attorney having made an able argument, adorned with beautiful figures, and noble sentiments, Judge Mackey said, "as in the eye of the chemist, the diamond is but a piece of carbon, and the tear of sorrow but a drop of salt water; so a court should strip questions of all more sentiment, and decide them in the light of principles of law."

The Boston "Atlas," in 1837, advertised that "an experience of five years has demonstrated of Fairbanks' Scales that for accuracy, convenience and durability they are unrivaled." The Atlas and most of the men who made it are dead, but the Fairbanks' Scale, retaining and increasing its merits, has enlarged its domain until it has become the recognized standard of the world—all within the life-time of its inventor.—N. Y. Evening Post.

A JUDICIAL INDICTMENT.—True bills have been found against Judges Grason and Yellott, at Townsontown, Md. An extra presentment was found against Judge Yellott for drunkenness, rendering him unable to discharge the duties of his position, and bringing the Court over which he presided into disrepute and disgrace. A bench warrant has been issued for Judge Yellott's arrest.

The opposition to the Moffitt bell punch is taking a practical turn in Virginia, and the private bottle is on the increase. By buying as much as five gallons, the special tax of 40 cents a gallon is avoided, and drinking at home is more popular. So are the private club rooms more popular.

The London Times, in a leading article on the war, says: "The end of the campaign must be near and it promises to present something like a drawn battle. Formally or informally, the powers will then, no doubt, attempt to avert the necessity of another campaign by the aid of diplomacy."

The assignment of Frank Leslie, the publisher, for the benefit of his creditors, with a schedule annexed, has been filed. The total liabilities are set down at $330,134.52. The nominal assets at $230,308.65, and actual assets at $75,166.93.

SINGULAR, ISN'T IT.—The New York Commercial Advertiser, Rep., says: Even the most prejudiced bloodyshirtist must admit that the annual crop of negro shootings is remarkably backward in South Carolina this season.

Gov. Hampton has commuted the death penalty of John Johnson, a colored man, of Edisto Island, convicted of murder, to imprisonment for five years in the penitentiary.

THOS. E. TABB, about nine years old, son of Dr. Tabb, of Beach Island, was caught in the gin machinery of B. B. Lamar's cotton gin, and almost instantly killed.

SUDDEN DEATHS.—Judge Barnard Hill, of Georgia, died on the bench, in Crawford County, on the 26th.
Wm. A. Shorter, Esq., of Rome, Ga., died suddenly on the 27th.

A man named McGuire, who has been travelling with a circus company, committed suicide in Nashville, by cutting his throat from ear to ear.

Justice Swain, formerly Presiding Justice of the Cape May, N. J., Co.
Courts, cut his throat with a razor, at the Gatzner House, in Dennisville, and died on Tuesday.

Among the models destroyed by the late fire in the Patent Office, was the original cotton gin invention, which has done so much for the South.

T. J. Kercheval, Republican, has been re-elected Mayor of Nashville, Tenn., by a majority of 1,150 votes.
The election passed off quietly.

A difficulty between several colored persons in Augusta, on Saturday night, resulted in the death of Brad.
McKines, with a knife.

Thos. Williams, another victim of the phosphate boiler explosion, died in Charleston.

An entire family, colored, five in number, has been committed to jail in Lancaster.

Home, Sweet Home.

THERE is nothing which domesticizes a man so badly as to breakfast him on bad bread.
This is not always the cook's fault, although, of course, she comes in for her share of the censure. In order to avoid this unpleasantness at the table, buy MRS. PRICE'S YEAST CAKES, and my word for it, you will have the lightest, sweetest and prettiest bread and biscuits possible.

We have got so into the way of buying everything we need away from home, and into the habit of thinking we can do nothing ourselves, that I am almost afraid to state that Mrs. Price's Yeast Cakes are a home production—cheap, infallible and only need a trial to insure a constant demand. Use them once and you will use them always.
